In August my family and I went on holiday to Poland. We stayed on my Uncle's farm in Kozince, which is on top of a mountain five thousand feet high. Every day we visited many exciting places. One was Czartoria, where we went up a mountain called Baruna by cable car. We also visited the Lord Mayor of Wista. On the last night of our stay we went out on to the mountainside and watched the fireworks go up in Wista, as it was the last night of the Beskid Festival, which the people celebrated for a week.

Alison Jones, Glamorgan, S. Wales.

Thank you, Alison. You seem to have had a good time in Poland.

My first is in elephant but not in mouse
My second in wife but not in spouse
My third is in nothing but not in lots
My fourth is in kettles but not in pots
My fifth is in painting but not in art
My sixth in market and also in mart
My seventh is in none but not in all
My eighth in short and also in tall
My ninth is in hair and also in head
My tenth in table and also in bed
My eleventh in converse but not in said
My WHOLE in the TV Comic I read in bed.
Answer: Pink Panther

Andrew Murray, Newton Abbot, S. Devon.

Cheryl Challis of Sittingbourne, Kent, has a cat that is always being chased by her hamster. Just like Tom and Jerry!

I haven't got any unusual hobbies but I often help my friend with hers . . . collecting animals' bones. She is interested in this because she wants to be a vet, and she tries to identify the bones we find in fields and on the beach, and then later sorts them into groups of birds, rabbits, etc. After scrubbing them clean she has to keep them in boxes in the garage to stop her dog, Kim, getting at them.

Sheila Thomas, Weston-Super-Mare, Somerset.

Good thing you hide them from Kim, or Kim would probably bury them all somewhere and hide them from you!

* * * * * * * *

When I was about five or six years of age I made an apron. When I showed it to my Dad he asked: "Did you sew it up by hand?" "No," I said, "I used a needle."

Wendy Carroll, Liverpool.

I'm sure your Dad was needled after that!

This is a picture of Susan, Simon and Lesley Pratt of Burton-on-Trent. Susan and Simon struggle so much to be first to read TV Comic that once they tore it and their mother had to buy another.

If all our readers did this we'd sell twice as many copies!

"Your dog's chewed my hat."
"Not my fault. You shouldn't have dropped it."
"I don't like your attitude."
"Its not my 'at-he-chewed but your 'at-he-chewed."

Gillian Cox, Brighton, Sussex.

This is a photograph of Kevin Pack, aged six, in the stocks on show at Stow-in-the-Wold. Kevin has simply put his feet through the holes for fun, but his sister Julie, who is only three, seems to be wondering how he is going to get out again. Kevin's favourite characters in TV Comic are Tom and Jerry, Pink Panther and Animal Magic. He lives at Higham Ferrers, Northants.

"Doctor, I feel cold, shivery and shaky."
"Good gracious, you must have 'flu."
"Oh, no, I walked slowly all the way."
